

Consultancy and Design

THINK BEFORE YOU PRINT
DO YOU NEED TO PRINT ME?

Consultancy and Design

IT is such an expansive, complex business function that sometimes it's good to know you can call on external experts to supplement internal resources. Vital offers a full range of consulting, security, ecommerce, communications, and network design and build services, partnering closely with clients to deliver successful deployments through collaboration and co-operation.

We'll happily work on projects of any scale, with our SME team focused on the needs of small to medium sized businesses and our Enterprise unit dedicated to servicing national and international organizations. Our overriding aim, regardless of size or spend, is to ensure every Vital customer can get the best business return from their IT investment

Network Design

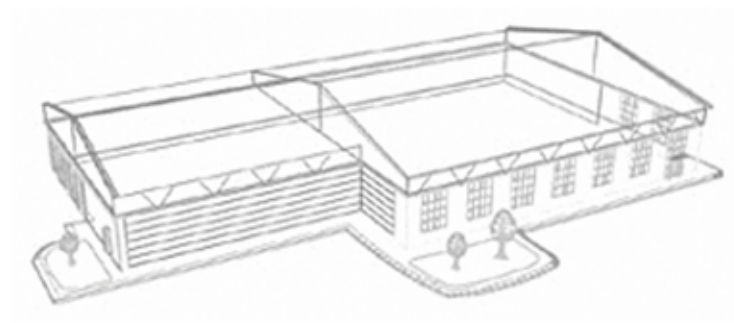

As the backbone for IT communications, the network element of enterprise architecture is increasingly critical to the success of any company.

Features

- Full product lifecycle based approach to network services.
- Mobility, unified communications and security based designs.
- Network architecture designed to closely meet business requirements.

Benefits

- Increase uptime - Reduced system down time.
- Cost Effective - Cost effective support outsourcing .
- 24/7 - Rapid resource deployment around the clock.

Network Security

Our managed network security service is based on Cisco's award-winning self defending network portfolio, allowing you to connect, communicate, and conduct business securely while protecting users, information, applications and network infrastructure, benefits of which include:

Features

Detailed enterprise risk assessment.

Real time threat management, detection and mitigation.

Comprehensive network security policy creation and enforcement.

Benefits

Lower TCO - Lowering the total cost of ownership.

Cost Effective - Reducing the IT administrative burden.

Minimize Risk - Minimizing security and compliance IT risk.

For more information on Vital Network Security, or any other of our services please call our Sales Team on 020 7903 8720.